Freddie Mac Foundation's
Wednesday's Child

When we first met up with Joshua he was 10 years old and was thinking he might want to be a chef. A lot has developed in Joshua's life since that time and as we re-visit a more mature Joshua, we learn that his creative spirit has blossomed towards the more theatrical. Joshua (1996) is now interested in pursuing something related to fashion – possibly costumes and make-up for movie, television or theatre.

On the set of "Bring It On – The Musical" Joshua met some of the members of the cast and crew and got a first-hand, behind-the-scenes look at the production and what it takes to put on a big time musical.

Joshua tells us that his journey in foster care has been difficult but he embraces those experiences because it is his reality and his life story. Joshua describes himself as a very out-going person who loves to chat and listen about other people's experiences. He hopes to find a family who would provide support, opportunities, and even challenges towards personal growth while accepting who he is and loving him unconditionally.

If you could see Joshua as part of your family's "cast and crew", our people are ready to talk to your people! To learn more about Joshua and about adoption, please tune in to Wednesday's Child and call 1-866-921- ADOPT (2367)
