

Freddie Mac Foundation's
Wednesday's Child

Segment airs Wednesday, March 17, 2010 on the FOX 11 10pm News.

Adoption of a Real American Girl

Remember this cutie pie? Melissa had a love for dolls, yet never had one of her own – until her Wednesday's Child taping, that is. Through the compassion of our friends at the American Girl store at The Grove in Los Angeles, Melissa got the chance to select a doll to take home as her own.

While Melissa was selecting her doll, little did anyone know that Melissa's mom-to-be was out there looking to do something similar – find the child that she was meant to share her heart and home with and call her own.

Melissa's adoption was one out of hundreds that finalized during National Adoption Day 2009. And who (besides her now adoptive mom) did we find front-and-center at Melissa's adoption hearing? You guessed it – her American Girl doll, Samantha.
